

Chapter 4 – Traffic Operations and Capacity Concepts	Cross-References	Pages
Basic Motorized Vehicle Flow Parameters Subhourly variations in flow (peak hour factor)		4-3 to 4-4
Additional Interrupted Flow Parameters Signalized intersection flow Delay Number of stops Queuing		4-14 to 4-17 4-18 to 4-19 4-19 4-19 to 4-21
Capacity Concepts Definition of capacity Base conditions Roadway conditions Traffic conditions Control conditions Technology and operations Environmental conditions		4-21 to 4-22 4-22 4-22 to 4-23 4-23 to 4-24 4-24 to 4-25 4-25 4-25
Estimation of Traffic Flow Parameters		4-26 to 4-27

Chapter 18 – Urban Street Segments	Cross-References	Pages
Step 2: Determine Running Time A. Determine free-flow speed B. Compute adjustment for vehicle proximity C. Compute delay due to turning vehicles D. Estimate delay due to other sources E. Compute segment running time		18-27 to 18-29 18-29 to 18-30 18-30 to 18-31 18-31 18-31 to 18-32
Step 3: Determine the proportion arriving during green		18-32 to 18-34

Chapter 19 – Signalized Intersections	Cross-References	Pages
Traffic Signal Concepts Types of traffic signal control Intersection traffic movements Signal phase sequence Operational modes Left-turn phase sequence		19-4 to 19-5 19-5 to 19-6 19-6 to 19-7 19-7 to 19-8 19-8 to 19-9

Chapter 19 – Signalized Intersections	Cross-References	Pages
Traffic flow characteristics		19-9 to 19-12
Phase duration		19-12 to 19-14
Analysis Type		19-14
Spatial and Temporal Limits		19-14
LOS Criteria
Motorized vehicle mode		19-15 to 19-16
Scope of the Methodologies		19-16 to 19-17
3. Core Motorized Vehicle Methodology
Scope of the Methodology
Spatial and temporal limits		19-18 to 19-20
Performance measures		19-20
Limitations of the methodology		19-20 to 19-21
Lane groups and movement groups		19-21 to 19-22
Required Data and Sources
Traffic characteristics data		19-22 to 19-32
Geometric design data		19-33 to 19-34
Signal control data		19-34 to 19-39
Other data		19-39 to 19-40
Overview of Methodology	Chapter 31
Framework		19-41
